

THE NEW .22^s MAKE A WORLD'S RECORD

REMINGTON
UMC

"LESMOK" .22^s

ACCURATE---DEPENDABLE

THE accuracy of Lesmok .22s enabled Dr. W. G. Hudson, January 31st, to break the world's 100-shot gallery record with a score of 2482 out of a possible 2500.

The accuracy of Lesmok .22s enabled Arthur Hubalek, March 14th, to break Dr. Hudson's World Record with a score of 2484 out of a possible 2500.

The accuracy of Lesmook .22s will enable you, too, to break all your previous records. Make out your next order for the new accurate .22s—Remington-UMC Lesmok.

"The Question today," said Von Moltke, "is not so much whether a Nation is strong enough to make war, as whether its government is powerful enough to prevent war. It is the sword alone which keeps the sword in the scabbard!"

TO speedily dispel the misunderstanding and consequent prejudice which now hampers the efforts of the friends of adequate National Defense, our patriotic citizens should first read and then hand to some friend, Colonel A. C. Sharpe's one of the most timely publications of the day.

"Making a Soldier"

The Army and Navy Journal concludes a careful review by saying, "The whole is a broad-minded and valuable discussion of the spirit of military training and the duties of patriotic citizen towards his country."

The book is bound in khaki-colored Buckram, 50 cents a copy.

"IT'S AWFULLY EXCITING!"

Exclaimed a young lady who was reading "IN OUR COUNTRY'S SERVICE," when asked her opinion.

Yes, exciting, full of action, heart interest, and above all a suspended plot that keeps the reader on the keen edge all the time.

"Major M. J. Phillips has given free rein to his fancy and the result is a tale full of excitement and impossible adventure."
