Features

16 Final Tricare Frontier

With thousands of traditional Guardsmen lacking medical insurance, an effort has begun to provide health coverage through Tricare, the military's health services provider. Besides insuring troops are healthy for deployment, supporters say it could be the next big retention tool.

20 The Guard's Elite Units

These skilled professionals aren't afraid to get muddy and bloody. You might be surprised at how far they go to accomplish their missions.

Special Forces

They parachute into the jungle and then go on a timed march with a 55-pound pack. And that's just a weekend drill. Welcome to the world of the Guard Green Beret.

Braving the Elements

From mountain peaks to the middle of the ocean, there is no place Air National Guard rescuers won't go to get their man, and no limits to what they'll risk so "that others may live."

26 Reluctant Pioneer

So what if she's the first woman to serve as adjutant general, says Maj. Gen. Martha Rainville, "it's leadership that matters, not gender."

28 Indy Invites

Whatever you like to do, chances are you'll find it in Indianapolis, the "Crossroads of America" and host for the 123rd NGAUS General Conference. The question is, Will there be enough time to take it all in?
