

Every Reader Reads Advertising.

The National Guard is loyal to the National Guard Magazine. They believe in it and read it from the first to the last page; everything—advertising and all. All advertisers are reliable and readers should order what they may need from advertisers using the columns of the Magazine, and when they do they should say, "I saw it in the National Guard Magazine." It will only take a moment to write it. You will help yourself and us by doing so.

Here is a list of advertisers for October:
