To use travel time efficiently...

Move by Train!

- Use travel time as training time for vital preparations on your way to camp—staff conferences...duty assignments... non-com briefing...last-minute instructions. There's time and room for all of them. Best of all, your Guard unit travels together, arrives rested and ready to go.

- This year...every year...take the train to your National Guard encampment.

Our Cover

This Air Force jet fighter, first piloted plane to be airborne from a "zero-length launcher" (Dem National Guardman, Jun '55), may have been blasted into a new era in combat aviation. Use of this launcher, developed by Martin Aircraft of Baltimore, Md., may eliminate the need for front-line airstrips, the Air Force believes.
