Only PEPSI Gives You PROOF of HIGHEST QUALITY and TWICE AS MUCH, Besides!

PEPSI IS OF HIGHEST PURITY...GIVES MORE QUICK FOOD ENERGY OUNCE FOR OUNCE!
Certified by U. S. Testing Co., Inc.

12 FULL GLASSES IN THESE 6 BIG 12-OZ. BOTTLES!

MORE BOUNCE TO THE OUNCE!

"LISTEN TO 'COUNTER-SPY'—TUESDAY AND THURSDAY EVENINGS, YOUR ABC STATION"

THE NATIONAL GUARDSMAN
OFFICIAL PUBLICATION
National Guard Association of the United States
400 Sixth Street, N. W., Washington 1, D. C.
Phone: District 0341
TWX: WAC 208

MAY, 1950
VOL. 4, NO. 5

CONTENTS
The President's Page: Inside Front Cover
We Guard America's Outposts: 4
No. 3—Puerto Rico
Washington Report: 8
Mike Firepower: 10
Guard Plays Major Role in Gunnery Meet: 15
The Infantry Rallies the Navy: 16
How Do You Rate?: 18
Pentagon Paragraphs: 18
Staff Training Programs: 24
Warrant Officer Ranks Revised: 26
Making Communication Specialists for the Artillery: 27
Record-Breaking Field Training for '50: 28
Tales from the Troops: 29
Pilot Training Planned for Guard Airmen: 29
Posting the Guard: 30
Sound Off!: 35
As We See It: Inside Back Cover

THE NATIONAL GUARDSMAN PUBLISHING CO.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry
Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Lowland
Maj. Gen. C. D. O'Sullivan
Maj. Gen. James L. Sensiba
Brig. Gen. Charles H. Grabl
Brig. Gen. John A. Harris
Col. O. P. Farneth, Counsel

EXECUTIVE STAFF
Alfred G. Crist, Executive Editor
Edward F. Hagen, Associate Editor
Martin L. Garvey, Advertising Director
Charles H. Kenworthy, Production Editor

Dear Guardsmen:

A good picture is a good picture, regardless of where it comes from, who took it, or when. It’s the “when” that we’re thinking about right now, because of a most unusual coincidence.

The Public Information Office at The Armored Center took a batch of pix especially for us, during the recent Special Armored Cavalry Orientation Course for National Guard officers. It also supplied an assortment of “stock” shots out of the files. We needed just one of the latter to round-out the makeup of “We Learned About Armor” in the April issue—a photo of an M-48 tank firing, with a sheet of flame fountaining out. It appeared on Page 16. Then came a copy of the March-April issue of “Armed Cavalry Journal.” Guess what picture it used on Page 6 to illustrate a point about tank armament?

Nope, there hadn’t been any connivance—two editors liked the same picture, picked it independently, ran it at the same time.

Incidentally, we blush even an omission of credit to the U. S. Army for the first frame. The usual credit line got lost in the shuffle during makeup.

If you look at the manhead at the bottom of this page, you’ll find a new name: Martin L. Garvey. Mart is a new member of the staff, succeeding Bob Cocklin as circulation manager and advertising director. We’re glad to have Mart aboard and genuinely sorry to see Bob go. He’s been with the magazine almost since it was born and has sweated out all of its growing pains. In his military career, Bob is a “right colonel” and Chief Staff of the D. C. National Guard. His successor is a first lieutenant in the D. C. Air Guard. Mart flew with ATC in the Pacific during the war and has about 1,300 hours in 13 different types of aircraft. He’s checked out in everything the D. C. Air Guard has, including the F-86 Thunderjet. “Bad and farewell,” the old Romans used to say. Welcome Martin. Take care of yourself, Robert.

The Staff

OUR COVER

Guarding the entrance to San Juan is the famed old Fortresses El Morro, with its sentry box looking out on the blue Caribbean. The famous barrier of defense at the entrance to the harbor of San Juan was begun in 1528. More than four centuries later it continues to stand as a symbol of people’s unshakable faith, the firm foundation upon which today’s modern Puerto Rico National Guard isbuilt. (Army Photo.)