The Bottom-Up Review gave us 15 high-priority, enhanced brigades, but failed to define the balance of the force. The Off Site agreement validates the retention of at least an additional 22 combat brigades as a strategic reserve. We also achieved stability for Army Guard and Army Reserve forces. Force structure was going down, but now the Army has a force structure that can support missions into the year 2000. We also achieved stability for the National Guard and Army Reserve forces. The Bottom-Up Review gave us 15 high-priority, enhanced brigades, but failed to define the balance of the force. The Bottom-Up Review validates the retention of at least an additional 22 combat brigades as a strategic reserve.