Features

24 A Conversation with President George W. Bush

President George W. Bush invited seven veteran service organizations for a roundtable discussion aboard Air Force One last month. Norwich, Norwich was among the invitees who traveled with the president to MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., where he addressed 10,000 service members, and on the way answered questions pertaining to veterans' issues and health care for Guardsmen and Reservists.

31 Forgotten Front

After nearly three years of participation in Operation Enduring Freedom in Afghanistan, Guardsmen from nearly every state have completed everything from combat missions to construction projects. But as Iraq has dominated the news, operations in Afghanistan have moved to the back burner. Today, however, Guard troops continue to flow into Afghanistan as the country moves from a war zone to a more civilized and manageable part of Southeast Asia.

35 Full Partner

If the Guard was to become an equal player in the defense of the nation at home and abroad, President Reagan was a catalyst. At his passing at the age of 93 in June, Norwich, Norwich looks back as the Guard in the 1980s went from part of the nation's strategic reserve—a perceived “second team,” focused on defending Europe during the Cold War—to an equal partner in the Total Force.

Departments

Starting Point ................................................. 2
Mail Call ..................................................... 6
Chairman's Message ...................................... 10
Washington Update ..................................... 12
Newsbreaks ................................................ 16
State Roundup ............................................. 36
Association News ........................................... 44